Historical note

In 1947 the General Assembly expanded the statutory powers of the Medical Care Commission. All hospitals operating in the state were made subject to licensure under standards set by the commission. The Medical Care Commission was authorized to inspect any hospital to ensure compliance with hospital standards and to review for approval the plans of proposed hospital construction, including renovations. The 1947 act also authorized the Medical Care Commission to award grants-in-aid to regional or municipal authorities for the construction, maintenance, or improvement of hospital facilities. The commission was authorized to establish the criteria for awarding state and federal funds, but was directed to give preference to applications which matched the priorities of the Federal Hospital Survey and Construction Act. The General Assembly authorized local governments to apply to the Medical Care Commission for technical and financial assistance to help them establish or improve local hospitals. Local governments, with the approval of the Medical Care Commission and voters, were allowed to levy taxes and issue bonds to support medical facilities.
